5 Best New Songs This Week: BROCKHAMPTON, Saweetie, Phoebe Bridgers, and More

Add these new tracks to your weekend playlist.

It's New Music Friday, besties. You know what that means — there's a ton of brand new, best new songs and releases to add to your weekend playlists. This week's NMF roundup includes exciting new drops from the Icy Girl herself Saweetie, a final bow and a surprise release from Brockhampton, a new track from Phoebe Bridgers, a remix of sorts from Sabrina Carpenter, and a new project from Kaash Paige.

Saweetie teased her new EP The Single Life while speaking with Teen Vogue interim managing editor Jewel Wicker at Teen Vogue Summit 2022 this past weekend in Los Angeles. She confirmed that her debut studio album Pretty Bitch Music is definitely on the way, but first would come a project near to her heart: enter The Single Life. Ready to dive into TSL and the other best new songs and releases of this week? Let's do it.

Saweetie, *The Single Life

Saweetie's new 6-track project The Single Life directly addresses her relationship and breakup with rapper Quavo. At Teen Vogue Summit 2022, Saweetie noted in her keynote that tracks like standout “No Reception” would address “everything that's been in the media about her this year.”

“I’m excited to share what I went through,” Saweetie said of the project at the Summit. “I think as I was making it, I was more proud to be single. Because I realized that I was growing, I realized that I was elevating. I realized that I was becoming a better woman.” I know that's right. Check out The Single Life above.
