Praise for “Vertigo”

“damn Griff I love this one” – Taylor Swift

“a cinematic and uplifting examination of what it means to be a woman navigating your early twenties.” – V Magazine

“a pop slow-burner that tackles emotional turbulence head-on.” – UPROXX

April 5, 2024 (Los Angeles, CA) — Today, global pop sensation Griff shares her brand new EP ver2igo vol.2. Listen HERE via Warner Records.

A brand new chapter of music, the project was launched by recent single “Miss Me Too,” a euphoric, existential anthem about finding your way back to yourself, and the little-discussed irony of losing confidence as you grow supposedly older and wiser. Watch the stunning video directed by Colin Solal Cardo (Kylie Minogue, Christine and the Queens, Charli XCX) HERE.

ver2igo vol.2, which includes brooding focus track “Pillow In My Arms” and the Mura Masa co-produced “Cycles,” continues to build the world around Griff’s bold new era. Last year saw the release of first single “Vertigo” — a dizzying anthem about the emotional disorientation of your early twenties. The vertigo vol.1 EP soon followed, including the gorgeous ballad “Astronaut,” which features songwriting-hero and touring partner Chris Martin of Coldplay on piano.

Throughout the EP, the BRITs Rising Star winner draws on her sideways origin-story, from her unorthodox Chinese-Jamaican outsider-status growing up to launching an international music career from the confines of her bedroom. She released the lockdown mixtape One Foot Front Of The Other in June of 2021, which led to tours alongside some of today's biggest artists — Coldplay, Ed Sheeran, Dua Lipa and Florence + the Machine — in which Griff has refined both her sound and her sense of self. With a 360-approach on everything from production, fashion and design, to the spiral motif connecting the project's themes — and her new signature haircut — in 2024, Griff will take fans on a creative journey that vol.2 suggests must ultimately start with you.
